

JAHANN DOS HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM DROWNING IN ROCK RIVER TODAY

THROWN INTO RIVER WHEN PORTION OF BRIDGE GAVE WAY THIS MORNING—TWO OTHERS NARROWLY ESCAPED BATH IN COLD WATERS.

CLEARING AWAY WRECK

Diver Resumed Operations This Afternoon After Archie Reid's Safe Was Located—Court Street Bridge Buildings Are Threatened.

That Johann Dos, who resides at 508 Linn street, was not sucked under the wreckage of the bridge at the Milwaukee street bridge which burned Tuesday night and drowned, is one of the miraculous escapes recorded at intervals.

Dos was one of the workmen employed this morning in erecting a derrick on the wrecked portion of the bridge, to be used in hauling out the safe which Diver Gunderson expects to salvage.

With John Phillips and James Sennett working at the extreme south of the bridge when a portion of the charred pilings gave way and with his companions was thrown into the river. Sennett and Phillips saved themselves by catching on to timbers but Dos was swept away by the current and down under the wreckage. As Dos disappeared beneath the wreckage all hopes for his life were despaired of as at this point the wreckage is particularly thick and was supposed to be piled almost to the bottom of the river. The current, however, is particularly swift at this point and it swept Dos downward and under the wreckage, a distance of some fifteen to twenty feet.

As he rose to the surface on the lower side Louis Meissner, who was working on the temporary platform there and who had witnessed the accident, succeeded in catching Dos' clothing with a cant hook and pulled him to a place of safety.

He was immediately sent home in a hack and Dr. E. H. called. Aside from bruises and shock from his dive under the twisted wreckage Dos was not injured and states he knew nothing after striking the water until Meissner hauled him out. He could not swim and if he had been able to he could not have saved himself.

James Sennett was on the portion that fell but as he went down he grabbed some timbers and was successful in holding on until a rope could be thrown him. George Phillips was fortunate enough to make a lucky jump and landed safely. Another workman who was on the falling part caught on the timbers of the foundation.

An accident of this kind has been predicted by many since the fire and the rotten condition of the piles forming the foundation of the bridge has caused the city officials to take every precaution for the safety of the public. Policemen are stationed at both ends and warning signs have been posted as to the unsafe condition of the structure.

The portion that went in was about ten feet square and went down without any warning. Large numbers of people have passed over this spot and it is a fortunate fact that there were no more people on there at the time.

This accident should convince the people of the great danger that there is connected in the crossing and that it is out of the question to think of making a repaired bridge serve the purpose instead of a new one.

Due to climatic conditions this morning little work was done to remove the wreckage which threatened to block the bridge at the old Milwaukee street bridge. Thursday afternoon a hole was forced in the center of the rubbish that fell into the river and the water was rushing through there like a mill race.

Meanwhile the water backs up on the remainder of the work and what timbers and wreckage floats down the river lodges at Court street bridge or farther down the river at the Interurban bridge at Jackson street or the city bridge at the same location. It appears to pass beneath the new Racine street bridge with ease.

Some of the wreckage lodges on the banks down the river and one remaining sight is a corset, evidently from the Archie Reid stock that has lodged on a rafter, just out of the water and waves with every breeze, near the Milwaukee street bridge.

Reports of salvage as far south as Beloit is announced and in Monterey hats, caps, shoes and clothing have been secured by ambitious anglers as well as some bales of cloth and other dress materials, that floated out from the wrecked stores. These, however, are so water-soaked they are of little value. One boy is reported as having fished out a pair of shoes yesterday that were mated, but odd sizes and of little or no value.

The Milwaukee street bridge is now blocked off so that pedestrians are forced to walk on the north sidewalk only and then are forced to keep moving. It is in a dangerous condition and any extra strain would mean the whole structure would collapse, so far as it is.

Diver Gunderson of the White Construction Company did not go down this morning after any more safes owing to the conditions at the bottom of the river which are deemed unsafe for further work until the wreckage is more cleared away. His work yesterday was most hazardous and he was at times badly entangled with telephone, electric wires and twisted irons while working at the bottom of the river.

The Brown Brothers' safe which he found late yesterday afternoon was found under a large amount of wreckage and took considerable work to take out and haul it to the platform with the aid of a block and pulley. Some of the valuable books of the firm of Carpenter & Carpenter, lawyers, were found by some boys who were exploring among the wreck.

When Gunderson brought up the safe of Brown Brothers it was found that the tumblers had expanded so that it would not open when the combination was tried. The intense heat had expanded the safe and when it plunged into the cold water of the river, the safe was in such a condition that it had to be forced open. Besides a few spoiled books that Mr. Brown found floating around on top of the water was a ladies tan oxford that had been in the window for display was discovered on the river.

The shoe was cut by glass and the leather of the shoe tree was peeled off by the heat. It was practically untouched by fire showing that the building fell before the flames had completely gutted the entire building.

The safe was pried open this morning and the contents found to be in good condition except some of the papers were slightly water soaked but are readable. The two hundred currency was untouched.

Late this afternoon Archie Reid's safe was found in a narrow hole some six feet in diameter. Diver Gunderson prepared to descend as soon as the wreckage was cleared away. The safe is a heavy one and has some two hundred dollars in it and valuable papers. One drawer containing $2.85 from the Reid store was discovered by wreckers this afternoon. The remains of George Hatch's harp was also found a complete wreck.

Pressure of floating wreckage from the burned buildings on the Milwaukee Street bridge this morning snapped off some of the timbers supporting the Court buildings on the north side of the Court Street bridge, causing the rear of a portion of the building to drop from one to two feet. The platform built over the water for the use of workmen was carried away at the same time and three men on it were compelled to run to safety. It was apparent that if the wreckage was not promptly removed the entire support of the buildings would be precipitated in the river, and the bridge itself would be placed in grave danger. The fire department, which on Tuesday night made a noble fight against fire, was called out to fight the water today, beginning work at about nine o'clock.

All machinery, implements and stock was promptly removed from the threatened buildings and holes cut in the floor and in the sidewalk to enable the firemen and their assistants to get down underneath. The force of the current was so powerful that it was impossible to dislodge some of the wreckage single-handed and ropes were passed to the floor above where men tugged and pulled with all their strength to move the timbers, planks and sticks that had become entangled in the piling. Steady progress was made, but the work was dangerous to the men as well as arduous, and rapid work was out of the question.

Care was taken to prevent the wreckage from lodging against the piers of the Court Street bridge, and men were stationed at convenient points to keep it moving down stream without obstruction. Others were stationed at the Racine street, Jackson Street and Monterey bridges and the Monterey dam. The railways detailed some of their section men to guard their own structures.

Thrifty householders at Spring Brook and Monterey are said to be out in boats gathering the large quantities of drift-wood floating down for use in their kitchen and heating stoves. One Monterey resident is reported to have fished out an entire box of felt boots which were not damaged by the fire.

Late last night Benjamin Morris, one of the workmen that is helping the diver in his work, fell into the river from the platform extending over the water and the current swept him down stream. He is an expert swimmer and was able to get out of the current and get to land about a hundred feet below the place he went in by catching the branches of a willow tree back of the Bostwick building.

HOLD PENSION CONFERENCE AT NATIONAL CAPITOL

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]

Washington, D. C., April 4.—The much-discussed plan to establish a pension fund for the benefit of the civil service employees of the Federal Government is likely to be given concrete form as the result of a conference which was opened in this city today. The conference, which will continue two days, is attended by representatives of every department of the government service. The chief task is to agree upon a plan that will be just and equitable to the government as well as to the employees. Some are of the opinion that the proposed pension fund should be supported entirely by appropriations from the government, while others favor a plan which provides for a fund supported partly by government appropriations and partly by deductions from the salaries of those to be benefited.

Vermont Woman 101 Years Old.

Corinth, Vt., April 4.—Mrs. Sarah Robie Wilson of this place celebrated her 101st birthday anniversary today. The official records of the town show that Mrs. Wilson was born in Corinth, April 4, 1812, the daughter of Ichabod Robie. With the exception of one year, all of her life has been passed here. Mrs. Wilson has four children, 21 grandchildren, 11 great-grandchildren and one great-great-grandchild.

MISS JESSIE W. WILSON GOES TO VISIT FRIENDS

St. Louis, Mo., April 4.—Miss Jessie Woodrow Wilson, daughter of President Wilson, will arrive in this city tomorrow and will be the guest of honor tomorrow night at a reception to be given for the benefit of the Goucher College endowment fund. Miss Wilson is a graduate of Goucher College, formerly the Women's College of Baltimore, and is taking an active interest in the movement to raise a large endowment fund for the institution. During her stay in St. Louis Miss Wilson is to be the guest of Miss Lucia Sloan, one of her classmates at college.

Three Hundred Employed in Retail Stores Leave Places—Want Higher Wages for Services.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

East Liverpool, O., April 4.—Approximately 300 clerks employed in the retail stores of this city struck at ten this morning, leaving not but proprietors and accountants to wait on customers. Of these, however, there are few. The strike has the entire sympathy of the union labor element which includes about 10,000 operative potters and many men in the building trades. The clerks asked higher wages and better working conditions.

WILSON MAY CONSENT TO A DUTY ON SUGAR

DEMOCRATIC LEADERS AGREE ON FREE WOOL WITH SUGAR DUTY TO BE REMOVED WITHIN THREE YEARS.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, April 4.—President Wilson would like to see free sugar but recognizes that a concession may be necessary to southern planters and would consent to a duty of practically one cent per pound, provided all duty would be removed within three years. This would mean for the present a duty of 1.20 to all countries except Cuba.

If the president can arrive at an agreement with the Louisiana senators on the sugar schedule there will be enough votes, it is generally assumed, to pass a tariff bill with free wool. On all other schedules there is substantial agreement between the president and congress.

Free Wool or Free Sugar.

The president has been told that either free wool or free sugar must pass but both could not. This was the status today of the informal tariff conference between the president and members of congress.

The president canvassed the situation first today with Representative Broussard, senator-elect from Louisiana. Mr. Broussard told the president that while his constituents would stand a tariff cut they believed the sugar industry of Louisiana would be destroyed by the complete removal of the duty.

Free Sugar Eventually.

The president declared he had no desire to destroy any business but hoped that within three years such a readjustment of the sugar business in Louisiana could be effected that the rest of the United States could have free sugar from the Louisiana planters to take part in the industry. This Mr. Broussard told the president was a practical question which he would have to discuss further with the business men of his state.

The president has been canvassing the senate and has a general idea of the extent to which a free sugar or wool bill would be opposed.

Attitude of Senate.

He expected to hear more definitely on the attitude of the senate after the senate finance committee met today to hear reports from Senator Simons, its chairman. Senator Hoke Smith and Senator Kern of the majority leader, all of whom conferred with the president last night.

Col. Sol Wexler, a banker of New Orleans, told the president today that the sugar planters of Louisiana could not adjust their business in three years to compete with Cuba and the rest of the world in growing sugar, and said the president must have been misinformed if he believed it could be done.

Col. Wexler went away from the White House with the distinct impression he said, that unless the Louisiana people extended the compromise the president would urge free sugar in any event.

GERMAN AIR CREW IN CUSTODY IN FRANCE

Men on Military Air Cruiser at Lunenburg, France, Are Held Under Guard.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Lunenburg, France, April 4.—The crew of the German military air cruiser Zeppelin, the 4th which landed on the parade ground here in the midst of a brigade of French riflemen yesterday are virtually prisoners though technically not in custody. The eleven officers and mechanics on board have all been requested to remain in Lunenburg until the incident has been fully investigated.

The aviators asked if they might be allowed to sleep in the cabin of the air ship which is about the dimensions of a Pullman car. The French commander consented to this and the aviators passed the night on board surrounded by fifty French sentinels posted ostensibly to prevent the merely curious from approaching.

General Augustus Rishauer chief of the aviation corps of the French army arrived from Paris to take charge of the investigation. Opinion in military circles is divided as to whether the German aviators really lost the way or instead encountered engine trouble during an audacious attempt at espionage. It is understood the Germans will not be allowed to depart until the whole matter has been cleared up.

MISSISSIPPI RIVER NOW NEAR A FLOOD THREATENING CAIRO

High Winds Cause River to Cut into Banks With Danger to Other Side of City—Workmen to Rescue.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Cairo, April 4.—In their anxiety to prevent the levee from breaking on the Ohio river side of Cairo, civilians overlooked any danger which might come from the Mississippi river side with the result that a force of workmen had to be rushed there early today when a washout was threatened between 19th and 24th street.

Danger From Mississippi.

High winds have caused the river to cut into the banks to such an extent that danger to the city was imminent. Several hundred bags of sand were hurriedly carried to the place from the Ohio river levee in automobiles and further erosion of the banks was prevented for the time.

The water on the Mississippi side is well below the levee top. Water which has backed into the Galche river at Cairo, Ill., has found an outlet into the Mississippi and has caused a slight rise in that river. Arrangements are being made by Lieutenant Buckner for the comfort and safety of the people, with the result that by night it is expected small life rafts will be placed throughout the city and in readiness for the big break should it occur.

Conditions Improving.

Evansville, April 4.—Conditions in the Wabash bottoms where the flood sent its greatest force in the last three days are somewhat ameliorated today. Relief boats from here reached Monticello, Ky., and the two thousand people there who have been marooned in the fair grounds without food and with only the shelter that the animal stalls provide, are better situated now. The north side of Evansville, along Pigeon Creek, is flooded for a depth of from three to ten feet, and many families have been forced to leave.

Need for Provisions.

Shawneetown, Ill. (Via Dekoen, Ky.) April 4.—Nearly one thousand flood refugees behind the hills here are in serious want of provisions. Appeals have been made to Congressmen Fowler, Col. Bixler and state officials, but because of the lack of communication no assurance of relief has been received.

Heavy Rains and Wind.

Hickman, Ky. April 4.—Continuous rains throughout the night and a hard upstream wind combined to render the flood situation desperate here today.

Another Dayton Flood.

Dayton, April 4.—Ten more inches of water in the Miami river will give Dayton another flood. A ten hour downpour which did not end until about this morning, together with flooded street intakes, flooded many streets in the city last night.

MONTENEGRO TO HOLD SCUTARI ON CAPTURE

King Nicholas Issues Statement Giving Policy to be Pursued by His Country.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

London, April 4.—King Nicholas of Montenegro is determined to capture and hold Scutari says a dispatch from Cetinje which gave the following statement from the king:

"I assure you that I and my people mean to keep the land we have taken during the war. We mean to take Scutari and mean to keep it. That is the dominating impulse of the Montenegrans who know too well that it is far better to die fighting than to go on living as we are doing now."

Issues Defiance.

Vienna, April 4.—Little Montenegro's defiance of the powers is the subject of a series of hysterical outbursts in the newspapers here. There are indications that the Austrian editors believe that some of the powers are not supporting the program greed up on for the coercion of Montenegro. The finger of suspicion points particularly at Russia.

All the papers print today an apparently inspired declaration announcing that Austria Hungary expects to act independently against Montenegro in case the naval demonstration by the powers is insufficient. One editor adds that "the city of Scutari must belong to the future state of Albania with or without the consent of Europe."

The Reichspost declares that if Russia prefers to see things otherwise arranged the whole works of the ambassadorial conferences in London will be null and void. It is stated here that during the recent fighting in the vicinity of Scutari the Montenegrans and Servians besieging armies lost 2,000 killed and the same number wounded.

Bulgarian Forces.

London, April 4.—The Bulgarian troops in front of the Turkish lines at Tchatalja have begun to retire under cover of a series of skirmishes according to a dispatch from Constantinople.

Turner of Lakewood, N. J., who was the wife of an employee on the estate of George J. Gould, on April 26, 1911. Mrs. Turner's body was found in a clump of weeds at Lakewood, the face beaten into the earth, the skull fractured. She had apparently battled for her honor before she died. Leehan lived at Lakewood at the time, but afterwards moved to White Plains, N. Y. He is married.

Private detectives have been on his trail for sixteen months. One of them gained his confidence and lured him into New Jersey for arrest. He collapsed, but denied his guilt.

REPORT CARPENTER BILL FOR PASSAGE

JOINT FINANCE COMMITTEE TODAY VOTES UNANIMOUSLY IN FAVOR OF STATE FAIR MEASURE.

TO INVESTIGATE SITES

Jamesville's Claims Will Be Presented As Soon As Legislature Takes Action and Governor Names Committee.

Madison, Wis., April 4.—Assemblyman Carpenter's bill for an investigation by the legislature of the proposed state fair sites with a view to warding off the fair was unanimously recommended for passage by the joint committee on finance this morning. The bill calls for the appointment of a committee of nine members of the legislature to be appointed by the governor to make an investigation of all of the sites proposed. The committee must make its report to the legislature within thirty days after it is appointed. This action of the committee will bring the bill before the house for action about Tuesday.

Exhibitors Favor Removal.

At the hearing before the committee yesterday afternoon, the principal arguments in favor of the measure were made by J. C. Schubert, formerly mayor of Madison. He said that a committee of Madison had written letters to all of the exhibitors at the state fair to ascertain if they favored a removal. He said that out of fifty replies thus far received, 90 percent were in favor of the removal of the fair. He said that the exhibitors did not express a preference as to where the fair should go, but that the letters showed they were dissatisfied with present conditions.

For Immediate Settlement.

W. J. Fairbank appeared as the representative of the Merchants & Manufacturers' Association of Milwaukee and said that the question of whether the fair is to be removed or not should be settled at this session of the legislature.

The State bill for the selection of members of the state fair board by recognized agricultural societies of the state, was on for hearing, but was laid over until two weeks from today, when it will be considered together with several other bills relating to the management of the state fair. The finance committee also recommended for passage the Dietrich bill which provides for the granting to the city of Milwaukee certain submerged lands for park purposes.

Jamesville Preparing.

Jamesville's committee is preparing to present the claims of this city for the state fair location as soon as the legislature takes action and the committee is appointed by the governor. Some good arguments are already in shape and with the offer of the finest grounds and speedway in the state as a site Jamesville's offer will be entitled to respect.

Owing to the press of business which came as a result of the fire and various matters incident to it, it was impossible for a delegation of Jamesville men to appear at the hearing yesterday. Assemblyman Alexander Paul was communicated with, however, and through him Jamesville's case favoring the passage of the Carpenter bill was given a hearing. Business men of this city will be pleased at the news of the committee's action which was taken at a postponed meeting this morning.

PUBLIC IS WELCOMED AT A PARTY CALICUS

Even Women Are Allowed at Meeting of House Progressives at Washington Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Washington, April 4.—The unprecedented spectacle of a party legislative caucus open to the public and attended by women was seen at the capitol today when the house progressives called their first conference. Less than a score of members of the new house were on hand for the conference, but Representative Markward of Kansas, leader of the party, declared that many new members unable to reach Washington in time for today's conference had enlisted in the progressive party by letter.

Places on Committee.

Representatives Hinebaugh and Murdoch the most active in the movement, expect an increase in membership later on and are pressing for recognition on important committees. The progressives demand right of a distinct party in congress. They have a legislative program and candidate for speaker, and count on the backing of the national party organization with the personal influence of former President Roosevelt.

Murdoch a Candidate.

"We constitute a new party," declared Mr. Murdoch in his announcement as a speakership candidate. "The elements which control the democratic party come half heartedly and incompetently and with inadequate weapon to battle with the powers that prey and pillage. Those who have perverted the purpose of the republican party are in league with privilege and at heart distrustful of all majorities. Our war is with an enemy that fears neither the republican nor the democratic party. Our struggle is with the forces of privilege. There is a new party in the land, the party of four million citizens who without time for organization marched to the polls in November to vote for Theodore Roosevelt."

Toms River, N. J., April 4.—W. J. Leehan, formerly employed as private secretary by Mrs. E. M. Horne of Pittsburgh, is in jail here today charged with the murder of Mrs. Charles L. Turner of Lakewood, N. J., who was the wife of an employee on the estate of George J. Gould, on April 26, 1911. Mrs. Turner's body was found in a clump of weeds at Lakewood, the face beaten into the earth, the skull fractured. She had apparently battled for her honor before she died. Leehan lived at Lakewood at the time, but afterwards moved to White Plains, N. Y. He is married.

Private detectives have been on his trail for sixteen months. One of them gained his confidence and lured him into New Jersey for arrest. He collapsed, but denied his guilt.

REPORT CARPENTER BILL FOR PASSAGE

JOINT FINANCE COMMITTEE TODAY VOTES UNANIMOUSLY IN FAVOR OF STATE FAIR MEASURE.

TO INVESTIGATE SITES

Jamesville's Claims Will Be Presented As Soon As Legislature Takes Action and Governor Names Committee.

Madison, Wis., April 4.—Assemblyman Carpenter's bill for an investigation by the legislature of the proposed state fair sites with a view to warding off the fair was unanimously recommended for passage by the joint committee on finance this morning. The bill calls for the appointment of a committee of nine members of the legislature to be appointed by the governor to make an investigation of all of the sites proposed. The committee must make its report to the legislature within thirty days after it is appointed. This action of the committee will bring the bill before the house for action about Tuesday.

Exhibitors Favor Removal.

At the hearing before the committee yesterday afternoon, the principal arguments in favor of the measure were made by J. C. Schubert, formerly mayor of Madison. He said that a committee of Madison had written letters to all of the exhibitors at the state fair to ascertain if they favored a removal. He said that out of fifty replies thus far received, 90 percent were in favor of the removal of the fair. He said that the exhibitors did not express a preference as to where the fair should go, but that the letters showed they were dissatisfied with present conditions.

For Immediate Settlement.

W. J. Fairbank appeared as the representative of the Merchants & Manufacturers' Association of Milwaukee and said that the question of whether the fair is to be removed or not should be settled at this session of the legislature.

The State bill for the selection of members of the state fair board by recognized agricultural societies of the state, was on for hearing, but was laid over until two weeks from today, when it will be considered together with several other bills relating to the management of the state fair. The finance committee also recommended for passage the Dietrich bill which provides for the granting to the city of Milwaukee certain submerged lands for park purposes.

Jamesville Preparing.

Jamesville's committee is preparing to present the claims of this city for the state fair location as soon as the legislature takes action and the committee is appointed by the governor. Some good arguments are already in shape and with the offer of the finest grounds and speedway in the state as a site Jamesville's offer will be entitled to respect.

Owing to the press of business which came as a result of the fire and various matters incident to it, it was impossible for a delegation of Jamesville men to appear at the hearing yesterday. Assemblyman Alexander Paul was communicated with, however, and through him Jamesville's case favoring the passage of the Carpenter bill was given a hearing. Business men of this city will be pleased at the news of the committee's action which was taken at a postponed meeting this morning.

GERMAN AIR CREW IN CUSTODY IN FRANCE

Men on Military Air Cruiser at Lunenburg, France, Are Held Under Guard.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

Lunenburg, France, April 4.—The crew of the German military air cruiser Zeppelin, the 4th which landed on the parade ground here in the midst of a brigade of French riflemen yesterday are virtually prisoners though technically not in custody. The eleven officers and mechanics on board have all been requested to remain in Lunenburg until the incident has been fully investigated.

The aviators asked if they might be allowed to sleep in the cabin of the air ship which is about the dimensions of a Pullman car. The French commander consented to this and the aviators passed the night on board surrounded by fifty French sentinels posted ostensibly to prevent the merely curious from approaching.

General Augustus Rishauer chief of the aviation corps of the French army arrived from Paris to take charge of the investigation. Opinion in military circles is divided as to whether the German aviators really lost the way or instead encountered engine trouble during an audacious attempt at espionage. It is understood the Germans will not be allowed to depart until the whole matter has been cleared up.

FOR A BAD STOMACH PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN

Time! In five minutes you will wonder what became of the Gas, Sourness and Indigestion!

Sour, gassy, upset stomach, indigestion, heartburn, dyspepsia; when the food you eat ferments into gases and stubborn lumps; your head aches and you feel sick and miserable, that's when you realize the magic in Pape's Diapepsin. It makes such misery vanish in five minutes.

If your stomach is in a continuous revolt—if you can't get it regulated, please, for your sake, try Diapepsin. It's so needless to have a bad stomach—make your next meal a favorite food meal, then take a little Diapepsin. There will not be any distress—eat without fear. It's because Pape's Diapepsin "really does" regulate weak, out-of-order stomachs that gives it its millions of sales annually.

Get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. It's the quickest, surest stomach relief and cure known. It acts almost like magic—it is a scientific, harmless and pleasant preparation which truly belongs in every home.

SURVEY FOR BRIDGE WILL SOON BE MADE

COUNCIL ORDERS BOARD OF PUBLIC WORKS TO MAKE INVESTIGATION.

CONFER ON REPAIRS

City May Co-operate With Interurban Railway—Will Look up Site for Oil Storage Tanks.

Soundings and surveys for a new bridge across the Rock river on Milwaukee street to replace the one ruined by the fire Tuesday night will be made by City Engineer C. V. Kerch and his assistants as soon as conditions permit in pursuance of a resolution passed by the City Council yesterday directing the Board of Public Works to make an investigation of the matter and return the result of its investigation as soon as possible. During the present state of affairs it is impossible to make trustworthy soundings, as the river is encumbered with debris of all kinds, some of it on the bottom, and some held in suspension by the water and swift current are also a handicap to the investigation that must precede the making of any estimates or the drawing of plans.

Temporary bridge to the north side of the Milwaukee street bridge will also be investigated by the Board of Public Works at the instance of the Council. It is very probable that the city will co-operate with the Rockford & Interurban railway in the building of a temporary structure. William Sparks, general manager of the railway, conferred with the Mayor and City Engineer yesterday and submitted a proposition to them for their consideration. He informed them that the company had a quantity of old bridge material which he thought could be used and that on his return to Rockford he would take an inventory of it. Chief Engineer Hubbard was also in the city yesterday, but through some misunderstanding failed to meet Mr. Sparks who was anxious to confer with him. He is expected to return here promptly.

Site for Storage Tank. The erection of large capacity storage tanks for asphaltic street oil is under consideration by the Council and at yesterday's meeting the City Engineer was directed to look up a convenient site for one. The Council has been of the opinion that if the railway offered liberal demurrage on oil-tank cars that a storage tank would not be needed, but now believes that it would be better policy to provide storage facilities. A storage tank would have to be located on a siding where the oil could be siphoned in from the tank cars, or possibly a site could be found where the oil could be moved by gravity.

Want Drainage Remedied. For some time past the drainage on McKee boulevard, between the tracks of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway Company, and State street has been defective, causing the street to overflow. The City Engineer was authorized by the Council to confer with the officials of the railway in reference to remedying the defect which is caused by the presence of the tracks.

Election Aftermath. Councilman Cummings submitted the report of the Judiciary Committee on the examination and canvass of the returns of the municipal election held on April 1. This report was accepted and approved, as were also the inspectors' statements and the poll lists. A declaration of the result was made by the Mayor and Councilmen.

Other Business. City Clerk Hammarlund was directed to draw an order on the General Fund in the sum of $34 to the favor of E. J. Howland, this being in payment of the use of his blacksmith shop for the registrations on March 10, 11 and 25. $8 per day, and for the municipal election on April 1, at $10 per day.

Curbs and gutters were ordered laid on Lincoln street from High street to Western avenue, and the Board of Public Works directed to view the premises and estimate the damages and benefits to the parcels of property affected.

The Superintendent of Streets was ordered to buy a three blade road drag for use by the street department. The Council approved and allowed the bill of McDonald & Sons, $15.50, for lunches furnished to the firemen Tuesday night.

TROUBLESOME PRISONER GETS LONG SENTENCE

Thomas Joyce, Who Tries to Wreck Station Cell Furnishings, Given Twenty Day Term.

Thomas Joyce, who is alleged to have been drinking heavily for the last ten days, was placed under arrest yesterday afternoon and when placed in a cell created a disturbance that could be heard all over the city hall and even outside. Not being content to express his feelings in this manner he tried to tear apart his cell and its furnishings. When he was arraigned in the municipal court this morning he pleaded guilty. Judge Fifield sentenced him to pay a fine of $15 and costs or go to jail for twenty days.

George Worley, another character well known to the police, was arrested in a West Milwaukee street saloon last night, after word was received that he was making himself offensive generally. Earlier in the evening it was reported that he attempted to drag a drunken man out through the back door of the Northwestern depot. He was unable to pay the fine of $10 and costs imposed and went to jail for fifteen days.

John Maxwell, who has been able to keep out of the hands of the police for nearly a year, was let off with the light sentence of a fine of $2 and costs, or five days in jail. Maxwell was to make arrangements to pay his fine.

SUBMITS FIRST VETO

Disapproves of Penning Bill, Proposing Radical Classification in Hunting Licenses.

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

Madison, April 4.—Governor McGovern submitted his first veto message of the session today when he returned the Penning bill proposing a radical classification in issuing hunting licenses. Except as applied to farmers the bill requires in addition to a year's residence that the applicant must be citizens of the United States. The governor protests against this discrimination.

The heading bill allowing the sale in "dry" districts of intoxicating liquor in the original package, was described by Mr. Allison as one which violated the Baker law and protesting against its passage. The bill was referred to the committee. The assembly killed a bill requiring state banks and permitting the transfer of liquor licenses. The senate was again without a quorum and adjourned until Monday night.

OFFICIAL ELECTION RETURNS ANNOUNCED

Show Fifield's Plurality 240, Antiside's Majority 637 and County to Carry by 2,558 Vote.

At a meeting of the Rock county board of canvassers, composed of H. W. Leitch, clerk, Supervisors Fred Rehfeld of Edgerton, of Rock and Henry Ebbott of Edgerton, held at the county clerk's office, the returns of Tuesday's election were canvassed and the official figures were announced. The result in the county judgeship contest show that Charles L. Fifield was elected by a plurality of 240 votes over John Cunningham. Fifield also carried the city of Janesville by 65 votes and the city of Beloit by over 700. The total figures are: Fifield, 3,245; Cunningham, 3,005; Burpee, 3,071; and Ryan, 303.

In the county superintendency contest the result was 2,055 for O. D. Antiside, the present incumbent, and 1,400 for Frank M. Jack of Beloit, making Antiside's majority 637.

For the state superintendency Cary carried the county by a majority of 2,558, the total vote being, Cary, 4,750 and Kittle 2,192.

For justice of the supreme court Robert G. Stiecker received 4,722 votes in the county.

Harry McIntyre, who has been captaining the second team of Cincinnati Reds, is a great stickler for discipline. One of his colts appeared in the dining room the other day smoking a pipe. Harry became miffed, and burst out, "Smoking a pipe before breakfast may be a good appetizer and quite in accord with the social rules of the Hodcarriers' Union, but the polite standards of our team must be maintained even at a slight personal sacrifice. Never let it occur again." It did not.

Larry Lajole, the only member of the Cleveland Naps who has not had any trouble on account of a sore arm, declares that massaging is bad for a salary whip. He argues that rubbing wears out an arm and that the best thing for a sore arm is natural rest. Larry ought to know. A dozen years in the big leagues have left his arm as strong as ever.

Freddie Welsh has just arrived from England, bearing with him two ornate championship belts, one signifying him to be the lightweight champion of England and the other tagging him champion of the world. Welsh's manager, Abe Pollock, declares that the world's championship belt was given to his protegee by the National Sporting Club of London, which Abe terms "the oldest and most reputable club in the world, including among its members dukes and lords and millionaires. Abe asks what better credentials Welsh could show for his title. Pollock also declares that he expects to match Welsh with Willie Ritchie.

Red Ames, hurler for the New York Giants, is declared by critics to look the best he ever has in the spring. This is in spite of the fact that he generally is regarded as a cold weather hurler. For sixteen innings of pitching against minor league teams he did not allow a run. That is going pretty well for so early in the season.

Johnny Evers has but one chance to make a success of his job of managing the Chicago Cubs. Owner Charles Murphy is in absolutely Dutch with the fans. If Evers can show the Cubs out in front at the start of the season and keep them there for a while, the fans may forget. But if they have no such interest to divert their attention, Murphy might just as well sell out. Such a move would be a great deal more beneficial to his pocket book than hanging on to the sad end the fans will bring about.

Speed, and then more speed is the aim of Manager Jimmy Callahan of the Chicago White Sox. He has been working up his players' base running facilities all during the spring training trip, and expects to have one of the liveliest teams in the league this season. The base runners are taking more chances than they have in years and getting away with it.

SPUR OF THE MOMENT

From the Hickeyville Clarion.
Zeke Tottles, who left here nine years ago, has returned with a fine automobile and a roll that would choke a hippopotamus. Folks around here all believe he has been up to some crooked work or other. If you come back home a success, folks all have their suspicions, and if you come back home a failure, they all holler, "I told you so!"

Half of this world doesn't know how the other half lives, and in fact the other half doesn't, it only exists.

I never see an expert checker player that could find time to make a success of anything else.

A feller that has got nine yards of string wrapped around his wallet has always got something inside of it.

If the neighbors have their way, Mr. and Mrs. Hank Tumms are going to get a divorce.

Every railroad engineer takes a vacation he spends most of it hangin' around the roundhouse.

Elihu Simms, our druggist, is havin' a bargain sale in crotches and Amos Pringle, our gentlemanly and congenial undertaker, expects to raffle off a casket next week. Business is lookin' up.

Cale Prouty, our jeweler and watch repairing done with neatness and dispatch three doors from the post office, has got a job tinkering up Deacon Stubbs' thrashin' machine.

Cale is a great inventor and has just invented a nonspillable inkwell. It is a great contrivance and very simple. To keep the ink from spillin' over the top of the inkwell he simply bored a hole in the bottom. The only trouble is that the ink all leaks out before a feller can use it, but as soon as he gets around this slight difficulty he believes the thing will be a great success.

Health Hints.

(By Dr. Bohunkus Jones.)
Cold Feet: Cold feet are a menace always and you should avoid them when possible, either your own or your wife's. A man who has cold feet never gets ahead in a business or professional way. There is a cure for cold feet. Put them in a gas oven and if they don't warm up within an hour, or two, there is no hope for you.

Eating: A person should be very careful in the matter of diet. Never eat anything before getting unless it is something light, like a mess of corned beef and cabbage or two, or three pieces of hot mince pie. Heavier food than those mentioned is apt to give a person the indigestion. Never eat more than a square yard of pickled tripe at one time.

Chewing: Fletcherizing is a great habit. Always chew the soup thoroughly ninety times before swallowing. An ordinary breakfast which begins at 7 o'clock should be chewed until nearly 10 o'clock to get the best results. You may miss several important business engagements, but what are a few business engagements to perfect health.

MAKE OUT SCHEDULE FOR COMING SEASON

Games Committee of Golf Club Plan Fine Series of Events for This Summer

E. C. Baumann, J. P. Baker and Miss Julia Lovejoy, members of the games committee of the Siniassippi Golf Club, are arranging a fine schedule of games for the coming season. One of the first events as soon as the links are in shape, will be a match between the east and west side players. John L. Wilcox has been appointed leader of the east side squad and Stanley Tallman will take charge of the west side players, and some keen rivalry is expected to develop.

Early in the season the qualifying rounds for the Wilson Lane Cup open to eight players will be scheduled. The match games must be played within a week.

The mixed foursome matches which proved so popular during the past summer will be continued this season, and will be scheduled from time to time by the committee. The pairings will be posted at the club house.

Other games to be played throughout the season are the goat matches, the tombstone matches, the bogie matches, and the qualifying rounds for the Morgan cup.

The committee has made an important rule which will apply to all matches on the links during the coming summer: "All those not having a five 9-hole score must play scratch to enter events. All scores must be posted and handed to the members of the games committee."

MAY ORGANIZE AMATEUR FOOTBALL ASSOCIATION

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

New York, April 4.—A proposal to form a national organization to control the sport of amateur football, on the same lines that golf, tennis and other branches of sport and athletics are now controlled by governing bodies, will be considered and acted upon at a conference to be held in this city tomorrow. The conference has been called by the American Amateur Football Association, which now has a membership of more than 120 clubs from New York to Salt Lake City.

Reprimand Milton Boys: Four young boys from Milton, charged with petty larceny were brought to this city yesterday afternoon and arraigned before Judge Fifield. Lenency was asked by District Attorney Dunwiddie, as he believed that the boys had not intended to do more than play a prank. Judge Fifield adjourned the case for sixty days, and announced that if the boys' conduct did not bring them to the attention of the court before that time the case would probably be dismissed. They were given a severe reprimand and given their liberty.

ORATORICAL EVENT AT MILTON COLLEGE

Miss Lewis Wins Contest for Women And J. L. Wood Takes Honors For Men

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Milton, April 4.—At the tenth annual oratorical contest at Milton college last evening the first prize for the women was won by Miss Lewis with the selection, "Pooling the People." Second honors went to Miss Cottrell with the selection, "Refinement in Conversation."

For the men the honors went to J. L. Wood with the subject, "The Philippines and Imperialism," and second place to R. W. West with the subject, "Diaz, the Patriot."

The judges were: Dean Mina Kerr Milwaukee-Dowder; Milwaukee; Prof. W. S. Watson, Whitewater Normal, Whitewater; S. M. Smith Esq., Janesville.

MILTON AND RIPON TEAMS WILL DEBATE

Federal Corporation Question Will be Discussed at Meeting at Milton Next Wednesday.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Milton, April 4.—Ripon and Milton colleges meet in joint debate here Wednesday evening, April 9. The question for debate is "Resolved, That all Corporations Engaged in Inter-State Commerce Should be Required to Take Out a Federal Charter Under Such Terms as Congress May by Law Prescribe." Constitutionally Granted." Messrs. A. E. Garvey, J. N. Daland, and F. L. Babcock will represent Milton College, and take the negative side of the question.

Kings' Daughters meet with Miss Josephine Crandall Monday.

W. H. Waterman has bought the D. A. Davis place on College street.

The fare from this village to Janesville will undoubtedly soon be reduced from twenty to eighteen cents, a saving to patrons of several hundred dollars per annum.

Mrs. F. G. Barden visited relatives at Albany this week.

J. H. Granger visited at Darien Wednesday.

Miss McChenny of Louisville, Ky., is visiting her schoolmate, Mrs. W. K. Davis.

L. P. Rood has gone to his new home in Taylor county, Wisconsin. Mrs. Rood will follow later.

Rapping on Wood.

It is a common thing to see people rap upon a chair or door after they have made some boastful remark, such as "I am never ill," or "My ventures always turn out well." This was originally done as an appeal to the efficacy of the wood of the true cross, and three raps were always in honor of the Blessed Trinity.

BURY THE HAMMER.

The time has come for citizens of Janesville to unite in concerted organization to boost Janesville. The mass meeting April 15 will mean much to Janesville if the proper enthusiasm is shown. It is a time to bury the hammer so deep it can never be dug up again and join in the war cry, "Twenty-five Thousand or Bust!" But now Janesville citizens have an opportunity to get together. And the plan is a very simple one. Why not everybody belong to the Commercial club, or a big, live, potent, active, progressive, optimistic organization whose sole aim it is to boost and even to brag for about and concerning Janesville. As a means to secure concerted and definite action toward unity and harmony it promises to be an epoch-making movement.

Aside from the unity and harmony which will be secured through the proposed society, it will also be possible to do something through the money which will be taken in. Dues of one dollar a year, or such a matter, will mean something. If there are a thousand members there will be $1,000, and if there are two thousand members, and there is no reason why there should not be that many, there is $2,000. This money can be used to advantage in boosting Janesville, in buying factory sites, so that a concern can be shown something tangible and real when they come to look over the city.

And then, in addition to this, there will be the general impression which will be created throughout the state and in the whole nation of a city where two-thirds or more of its men are banded together in one big, boosting association. It will create a tremendous prestige. It will be equal to the spirit which pervades the cities of the west. It cannot help but be productive of results.

The opportunity is now offered. Don't be skeptical, or indifferent, or fearful of the outcome. Have confidence, take courage, look forward, be optimistic; get in line and boost.

CARY'S ELECTION.

The re-election of Superintendent Cary to office again on Tuesday last, in the face of decided partisan political opposition, is a source of satisfaction generally throughout the state. The Madison Democrat, which has supported Mr. Cary throughout his campaign, discusses the election in the following manner:

"Most wholesome was Tuesday's electoral decision. A number of matters were cleared up in highly satisfactory fashion. Primarily the people of the state declared very firmly against the injection of partisanship, factionalism and despotism into our educational concerns."

The attempt to oust Superintendent Cary distinctly was not based upon defensible considerations. Its purpose was not the ultimate betterment of Wisconsin schools, but the exclusion from a position of influence of a gentleman earnestly inclined to exercise the prerogative of thinking independently. No good reason whatever existed for a change. Superintendent Cary incurred animosity merely because of his courage; he was unable to do element, spine in the face of no opposition. He criticized strongly and bravely where he thought criticism was due, likewise he bestowed commendation where he believed it belonged. Mr. Kittle, who opposed him, a most reputable and cultured gentleman himself, in this contest may be regarded as having been the mere representative of larger agencies operating well in the background. Citizens of the state were by no means unaware of this ulterior circumstance and their rebuke is decisive.

The check now given is one of the most hopeful incidents in relation to Wisconsin politics in many years. Professor Cary's vindication is unequivocal. It cannot be misunderstood. The people have declared distinctly in favor of the omission of party politics from the great educational policies of the commonwealth. No soon probably shall we be vexed again by such an audacious intrusion.

Janesville is going to have a new bridge at Milwaukee street. Nature and the elements decided this matter for the citizens without their having any choice in the matter. The next step is to have a handsome structure that will be the pride of the city.

In another column will be found letters of thanks from the flood sufferers in Ohio and Indiana, thanking Janesville citizens for their financial aid in this time of distress.

People are still congratulating themselves that the entire business district of the city is not a mass of smoking ruins today as the result of Tuesday night's fire.

Thousands of visitors have been attracted to the city by the fire, and what it is a serious calamity, the business interests destroyed will rise phoenix-like from the ruins.

EXPRESS GRATITUDE

OF CITY FOR HELP IN COMBATING FIRE

Council Extends Thanks to Mayors And Fire Departments of Rockford and Madison.

Through letters bearing the signature of Mayor Fathers, Councilman Cummings, and Councilman Miltimore the city has expressed its gratitude to the Mayors and Fire departments of Rockford and Madison for the assistance given or proffered, in fighting the fire that wiped out several business blocks on the Milwaukee Street bridge, Tuesday night. The letters are given in full below:

Rockford, Illinois.
Dear Sir: It is with sincere gratitude that we extend to you and through you to Chief Thomas and his department, our most hearty thanks and appreciation for the prompt and efficient service rendered by a detachment of the Rockford fire department, upon a call for aid during the conflagration in our city April 1.

The services rendered were loyal and heroically performed and deserving of special mention. Should occasion ever arise (which we earnestly hope never will) kindly consider that you are at our service and command.

Again thanking you for your speedy and energetic response to our call for aid, we are,

Very truly yours,

JAS. A. FATHERS, Mayor.

ROY M. CUMMINGS,

CHANCEY K. MILTIMORE,

Councilmen.

Letter to Madison Mayor.

Hon. Mayor Helm,

Madison, Wis.

Dear Sir: It is with sincere gratitude that we extend to you, and through you to Chief Heyl and his department, our hearty thanks and appreciation for the cordial and prompt response to give aid and assistance at a time when we thought we were so much in need during the conflagration of April 1 in our city.

While it appeared later in the evening to be unnecessary to use your good services, yet we feel, and are thankful to you for the speedy and energetic response so loyally made.

Should occasion arise (which we hope never will) kindly consider that we are at your service and command. The letter was signed by the mayor and councilmen.

part of the week, causing a sensation among the university. The court is composed of six members and two attorneys. Spohn was one of the attorneys. The court was supposed to have charge of the trial of student cases and was a part of the student self-government system dependent on the student conference.

"The real reason for action," says Spohn, "was the fact that we had no real power. It was not the Crite case, but the action of the regents in summarily amending the charter of the court that is responsible for the situation." "It is quite possible, and the natural thing to do is for the student conference to appoint a new court," said Prof. Roe. "There is no reason why student government should break down because of the action of the student court. The constitution of the court provides a method for filling vacancies on the court."

Carl Neprud, president pro tempore, of the conference made the following statement:

MANY GUESTS ENJOY EDGERTON BANQUET

One Hundred Forty Attend Affair Given at Hotel Carlton Thursday Evening.

Edgerton, April 4.—The most successful banquet ever held in the city of Edgerton was held last evening at the Hotel Carlton. Guests were present from Chicago, Milwaukee, Janesville, Stoughton and Madison. In all there were about 140 present. The dining room was elaborately decorated and at eight-thirty the men assembled at the tables and the feast was begun. The following is the menu:

- | | |
|-------------------------------------|------------------|
| Blue Point | Bullion |
| Olive and Pickles | |
| Baked Red Snapper with Tomato Sauce | |
| Roast Duck | Natural Gravy |
| Mashed Potatoes | Pears in Timbles |
| Potatoes | Ice Cream |
| Cake | |
| Rugelach Cheese | Wafers |
| Coffee | |

Music was furnished throughout the supper by Merrill's six-piece orchestra. After the supper the men adjourned to the parlor and an address was given by Toastmaster L. E. Gettle. Short talks were also given by Messrs. Welch, Hook, C. Wilson, Avery, F. W. Schoenfeldt, Marquis and W. P. Guttery. Mr. Guttery is to be complimented for his success in giving such an excellent banquet. It is doubtful if any other city of this size in the state could conduct a banquet of such degree.

Dr. Connell of Beloit called on Mrs. Ed Moore Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Moore has been suffering for the last two weeks with a nervous breakdown and neuritis of the heart.

The high school held their rhetorical this morning in the class rooms.

LIGHTNING STRIKES AT ELECTRIC PLANT

Big Turbine is Put Out of Commission and Fulton and Monterey Plants Furnished Power Last Night.

During last night's storm, lightning struck the front of the main plant of the Janesville Electric Light Company situated at the upper dam, doing considerable damage. The flash struck at five-thirty and went into the plant on the heavy cables. The force of the lightning badly damaged the west switch board and burned one of the transformers. The switch board controlled 6,800 volts and all this was put out of commission and stopped the operation of the big turbine which was running at the time. The lightning set fire to the transformer and was put out with chemicals by the electricians that were there at the time.

Everything was in confusion after the fire as every circuit breaker at the plant broke causing great delay. No power could be developed from the big turbine and the two other team engines were put to work in carrying the load. With the Monterey, Fulton and Indian Ford supplying all power available, none of the lights went out. This morning the men had repaired the damage and everything was in working order.

The water mark registered thirty-four and three-quarters inches above government level this morning which is slightly lower than yesterday's mark. The back water between the ruins of the fire and the dam lowered an inch and a half since the removal of some of the rubbish as it provides a better channel for the water to go out.

THE THEATER

"BROADWAY JONES"
Mr. George M. Cohan whose name and fame is sounded around the world and who is, by acclamation of all the people hailed as America's most popular actor, has furnished additional reason for this distinction in the instance of "Broadway" Jones, his newest play product. It is a pleasure to chronicle the success of "Broadway" Jones and credit its author with another triumph for the reason that in this play, like all those that have dropped from his prolific pen in the past, Mr. Cohan's writing breathes an atmosphere of keen humor, love, laughter and happiness in an environment of absolute cleanliness, and this in itself furnishes the reason for his present influence in the theater of today.

"Broadway" Jones will be presented at Myers Theater, Friday evening April 5.

"BOUGHT AND PAID FOR"
"Bought and Paid For" with its rapidly shifting currents of thrill and laughter, comes here direct from the Princess Theater, William A. Brady's Chicago playhouse. It is the season's striking comedy drama success, and has to its credit a record of over 200 performances in Chicago. In the quality of Mr. Broadhurst's play scarcely less than the manner of its presentation, this attraction has earned the commendation of the general public to the end that the theater, wherever "Bought and Paid For" appears, is completely filled at every performance, and in most instances the applicants for admission are far in excess of the interior space.

Frank Mills, Francis X. Conlan, Kathleen McDonnell, Arvid Paulson, and Helen Lackave are some of the players who contribute the highest of values to this entertainment, which is unique in several respects, particularly in the fact of its having introduced a character long familiar to everyday life, but strangely enough new to the stage—that of James Gilley, the impudent young barnacle waiting for a chance to attach himself to some millionaire appreciative of his qualities.

The date at the Myers Theater is now positively announced for Tuesday evening April 8.

Orders by mail are being received.

FRECKLE-FACE

Sun and Wind Bring Out Ugly Spots. How to Remove Easily.

Here's a chance, Miss Freckle-face, to try a new remedy for freckles with the guarantee of a reliable dealer that it will not cost you a penny unless it removes the freckles; while if it does give you a clear complexion the expense is trifling.

Simply get an ounce of othine—double strength from Badger Drug Co. and a few applications should show you how easy it is to rid yourself of the homely freckles and get a beautiful complexion. Rarely is more than one ounce needed for the worst case.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine as this is the prescription sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove the freckles.

Her One Great Desire.

Actress (who had returned from an extended tour to cook): "You have really kept house very well, Mary. What do you wish as a reward?"

Cook (who is a member of an amateur dramatic society): "Oh, nothing at all—only show me how to cast up the eyes as you recently did it in the role of Gretchen. If you could teach me that!"—Fleigende Blaetter.

ing: "Great snakes! Hold on a minute, will ye? There's a gold durned brass band, a-comin' an' there ain't nobody a-holdin' my horse!"

They were entertaining the minister at dinner, and after the dessert had been eaten, little Johnny said: "Won't you have another piece of pie, Mr. Hobbs?"

The minister laughed. "Well, Johnny," he said, "since you are so polite, I believe I will have another tubes and rushed to the door, cry-slice."

"Good!" said Johnny. "Now, ma, remember your promise. You said if it was necessary to cut into the second pie I could have another piece."

A wealthy gentleman who owns a country seat, on one occasion nearly lost his mother-in-law, who fell into a river, which flows through his estate. He announced the narrow escape to his friends, expecting their congratulations. One of them—an old bachelor—wrote as follows: "I always told you that river was too shallow."

Dinner Stories.

An old farmer drove into a small town the other day and stopped at the country store. A phonograph had just been installed and the farmer decided to have a few cents' worth of music. The clerk handed him the ear tubes, placed them in proper position and immediately started the machine.

The farmer instantly dropped the polite, I believe I will have another tubes and rushed to the door, cry-slice."

"Good!" said Johnny. "Now, ma, remember your promise. You said if it was necessary to cut into the second pie I could have another piece."

A wealthy gentleman who owns a country seat, on one occasion nearly lost his mother-in-law, who fell into a river, which flows through his estate. He announced the narrow escape to his friends, expecting their congratulations. One of them—an old bachelor—wrote as follows: "I always told you that river was too shallow."

The minister laughed. "Well, Johnny," he said, "since you are so polite, I believe I will have another tubes and rushed to the door, cry-slice."

Jacob and Esau, Gen. xxxv:27-34; xxvii:1-45.

Golden Text—Jehovah is a God of Justice; blessed are they that wait for him. Isa. xxx:18.

(1) Verses 27-28—Which was the elder, Esau or Jacob?

(2) Take two boys, one fond of hunting and the other inclined to industrial pursuits, and say which, from your observation, is the more likely to be prosperous, and why?

(3) What is the tendency when a father allows himself to feel and show partiality to one child more than to another?

(4) Even if one child is better than another and is more solicitous to help his parents than the rest of the children, should parents show more love for that one than the rest? Why, or why not?

(5) Verses 29-34—What rights did the first born have in those days over the other children?

(6) What can you say for or against the law of primogeniture, which still prevails in England and some other countries?

(7) Should the first born have any rights in the family not possessed by the rest of the children? Give your reasons.

(8) How much can you praise or blame Jacob for wanting to buy and Esau for selling his birthright?

(9) When a man sells or barter his morality for momentary gratification of appetite or passion what results generally follow?

(10) Chap. xxvii:1-5—How old was Isaac when he died?

(11) When the parents are divided concerning the treatment and training of the children what results may be expected?

(12) How would you prove that Isaac was going contrary to the expressed will of God in wanting to give the family blessing to Esau? (See Chap. xxx:23.)

(13) Verses 6-17—Rebekah knew that God intended the blessing for Jacob. Why therefore did she not do right to help God carry out his purpose?

(14) Why is it never right to do evil that good may come? (This is one of the questions which may be answered in writing by members of the club.)

(15) If we have a distinct promise of God that a certain thing will be done should we have any anxiety about it being accomplished? Give your reasons.

(16) Verses 18-29—Why is a lie never justifiable?

(17) What was the loss and gain of this lying transaction?

(18) Where can you draw the line between innocent and wicked deception?

(19) How much is a blessing worth when obtained by deception?

(20) Verses 30-40—What would it have availed Esau even if he had received the blessing he sought?

(21) Of how much benefit is the blessing of a good father upon a bad son?

(22) Verses 41-45—What was the actual penalty which Rebekah and Jacob suffered through their deception?

(23) When did Jacob and his mother meet again?

Lesson for Sunday, April 13, 1913.
Jacob at Bethel. Gen. xxxv:1-22.

BANQUET IN HONOR OF WINNING TEAMS

High School Girls Entertain at Banquet for Debaters, Basketball and Football Players.

The athletes and debaters of the Janesville high school were given an excellent banquet in the dining room of the Christ church last evening by the newly organized A. E. club of the high school, better known as the Athletic Enthusiasts. Twenty young men responded and a fine two course dinner was served to celebrate the glories of the local high school's many victories for the school year. The banquet was arranged entirely by the girls, and they must be given much credit for laying out such a tempting repast for the young men.

Dancing followed a short program and it occupied most of the time until a late hour. The hall was beautifully decorated with the high school colors being the main part of the decorations. Streamers were hung from one end of the hall to the other, together with many college banners. The dining hall was decorated with streamers bearing the colors of the Senior class. The young men left in good humor, stating that they had not expected such a good time, and that they hoped for another such year in athletics, so that they might trouble the girl enthusiasts again.

Those who were present were: Jessica George, Marjorie Van Kirk, Olive Reynolds, Genevieve McGinley, Jessie France, Marion Matheson, Elizabeth McManus, Evelyn Kavalage, Hazel Myer, Lola Williams, Evelyn Welsh, Aesta Bradley, Lucile Hyde, Gladys Huginn, Alta Fifield, Marguerite Thorne, Elsie Koch, Ada Fletcher and Ruth Soultman, and Allen Dearborn, Charles Noyes, Harold Mohr, Benjamin Kuhlrow, Stanley Judd, Victor Hemming, Ray C. Edler, Joseph Ryan, James Stewart, Andrew Connell, Frederick Cummings, Raymond Falter, Ralph Soullman, Leslie Bailey, Harry Ryan, Edward Atwood, Maurice Dalton, Roy Cannon and Leslie Stewart.

BIG AUCTION SALE
SHOWS POSSIBILITY OF MONTHLY EVENT

Over $11,000 of Kemmerer and Dietrich Stock Disposed of at Mammoth Sale Which Attracts Hundreds.

Hundreds of horse dealers, buyers, traders and farmers from all over southern Wisconsin and northern Illinois were attracted to this city yesterday by the mammoth auction sale of livery barn stock owned by C. W. Kemmerer and E. O. Dietrich, North Bluff street.

The unprecedented success of this sale simply goes to show what we could do in Janesville if we established a monthly horse sale of this character," declared "Col." W. T. Dooley, who so ably managed the sale in the capacity of auctioneer. He was assisted by "Col." Cornelius Donovan of Waterloo, Wis.

Mr. Kemmerer stated today that he could have nearly doubled the number of horses offered as well as added to the other goods disposed of, which goes to show that there is really a demand for some sort of market at which livestock and second hand goods could be sold.

Forty horses were sold at the auction yesterday in addition to practically the entire stock of buggies, cutters, funeral outfit, and harnesses amounting to over $11,000. H. Nelson of this city was one of the heaviest buyers, securing $2,000 worth of horses and goods. The highest price paid for horses was given by Mr. Nelson for the chestnut team going at $650.

D. Ryan was second high buyer taking $1,000 worth of stock and an Elgin dealer purchased about the same amount. Nothing was offered for sale except the Kemmerer and Dietrich stock.

"It was the biggest thing of the kind which has been held in Janesville," said Col. Dooley today. "It demonstrates the need for a monthly sale of this character which would unquestionably draw hundreds of farmers and dealers from all directions."

Dealers were present at yesterday's sale from the following cities: Appleton, Fond du Lac, Oshkosh, Reedsburg, Baraboo, Elroy, Waukesha, Oregon, Madison, Stoughton, Edgerton, Evansville, Beloit, Brooklyn, Orfordville, Brodhead, Mineral Point, Monroe, Darlington, Dodgeville, Mt. Horeb, Milwaukee, Eagle, Whitewater, Lima, Clinton, Sharon, Milton and Elkhorn and the following Illinois cities: Chicago, Harvard, Woodstock, Elgin, Rockford, Freeport and Davis Junction.

TRUST DEED FILED:
MILLION AND HALF

Rock County Land Involved in Huge Transaction—Made by Chicago Corporation—$80 to Copy Mortgage.

A trust deed for a million and a half of dollars was filed in the register's office, the money being raised by the Consumers Company, an Illinois Corporation and furnished by the Central Trust Company of Chicago and August S. Peabody, joint trustees. Fifteen hundred $1,000 first and general lien six percent serial gold debentures are issued to the trustees on real estate owned by the Consumers company in Wisconsin, Illinois and Indiana. Only a small portion of the land is owned in Rock county but larger tracts are owned in Walworth, Jefferson, Racine, and Kenosha counties. It will cost the company $80 to have the mortgage recorded in Rock county alone. The usual cost of filing such papers is $1 each but in this 125 pages will be required in the record book.

Woman's Beauty is Based on Health

To Have Health, Bowel Movement is Absolutely Necessary—How Best to Obtain It.

If woman's beauty depended upon cosmetics every woman would be a picture of loveliness. But beauty lies deeper than that. It lies in health. In the majority of cases the basis of health, and the cause of sickness, can be traced to the action of the bowels.

The headaches, the lassitude, the sallow skin and the lustreless eyes are usually due to constipation. So many things that women do habitually conduce to this trouble. They do not eat carefully, they eat indigestible foods because the foods are served daintily and they do not exercise enough. But whatever the particular cause may be it is important that the condition should be corrected.

An ideal remedy for women, and one especially suited to their delicate requirements, is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, which thousands of women endorse highly. Mrs. Jennie Snedeker, 1041 West Monroe St., Chicago, testifies that she is "cured of grave stomach and bowel troubles by using Syrup Pepsin and without the aid of a doctor or any other medicine." All the family can use Syrup Pepsin for thousands of mothers give it to babies and children. It is also admirably suited to the requirements of elderly people. In fact, all who by reason of age or infirmity cannot stand harsh salts, cathartics, pills or purgatives. These should always be avoided for at best their effect is only for that day, while a genuine remedy like Syrup Pepsin acts mildly but permanently.

It can be conveniently obtained at any drug store at fifty cents or one dollar a bottle. Results are always guaranteed or money will be refunded. You will find it gentle in action, pleasant in taste, and free from gripping, and its tonic properties have a distinct value to women. It is the most widely used laxative tonic in America today and thousands of families are now never without it.

If no member of your family has ever used Syrup Pepsin, and you would like to make a personal trial of it before buying it, the regular way of a druggist send your address—a postal will do—to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 417 Washington St., Monticello, Ill., and a free sample bottle will be mailed you.

ETHEL ROOSEVELT IS WEDDED TODAY

Married at Oyster Bay This Noon to
Dr. Richard Derby of New York.
Two Hundred Witness Ceremony.

New York, April 4.—St. John's Protestant Episcopal church, Oyster Bay, L. I., was filled with a gathering of distinguished guests today, when Miss Ethel Carow Roosevelt, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt, became the bride of Dr. Richard Derby of this city. The youth and beauty of the bride, the prominence of her father as an ex-president of the United States, and the presence of many guests of wide note combined to make the wedding the most notable affair of its kind that has taken place in this vicinity in a long time.

The marriage ceremony was performed by the rector of the church. The bride attendants were the Misses Josephine Osborn, Margaret A. Tucker, Helen Coster and Cornelia Landon and Miss Derby, a relative of Dr. Derby. The groom was attended by his brother, Roger A. Derby, who acted as best man and met the bride at the chancel steps. The ushers were Messrs. Archibald D. Roosevelt, brother of the bride; James L. Derby, a brother of the bridegroom; Dr. Henry James, John C. Watertown and Edmund P. Rogers of this city and Mr. Nelson F. Bossert of Boston, a classmate of Dr. Derby at college.

The bride was given away by her father, Colonel Roosevelt. She wore a French gown of white satin with long train and covered with point lace. Her veil was of old point lace and she carried a bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley.

The program of orchestral and vocal music at the church was especially notable and was arranged by the bride herself. Miss Ernestine Merrill of Boston sang several songs, one of which told the story of Ruth and Naomi. The organ was supplemented by an orchestra under the leadership of Naham Franko of this city.

After the ceremony the bridal party and guests were taken in carriages to the Roosevelt home, where a wedding breakfast was served and a large reception was held. The breakfast was served on small tables in the dining room. Clusters of roses adorned the center of each table. The decorations of the bridal table were entirely white. In the center was a two-tiered wedding cake.

Dr. Derby and his bride have engaged passage for Europe tomorrow. They plan to spend the greater part of the summer in travel on the continent. Upon their return home next fall they will take up their residence in New York City.

Though she has not been so conspicuously in the public eye as her half sister, Mrs. Alice Roosevelt Longworth, the bride of today naturally attracted much attention during Colonel Roosevelt's tenure of office as president of the United States. She made her formal bow to society at a brilliant reception at the White House in December, 1908, and since that time she has been conspicuous in the younger social sets in Washington and in New York. During the past four years the most of her time has been spent with her parents at Sagamore Hill. Like her father, she is an ardent devotee of outdoor sports and is an exceptionally good horsewoman. Those who know her best describe her as an excellent example of the American girl of the highest type, attractive in personal appearance, with a winsome spontaneity which is so evidently natural and ever magnetic.

Dr. Richard Derby, the bridegroom, is about thirty-two years of age. He graduated from Harvard in 1903 and is now a successful physician in this city. His father, the late Dr. Richard H. Derby of this city, was a noted eye specialist who graduated from Harvard back in '67, and whose death occurred on July 4, 1907, at his summer home at Dark Harbor, Me.

God Made Real

By REV. J. H. RALSTON,

TEXT—"He endured as seeing Him who is invisible."—Heb. 11:27.

The confessed atheist in these days is practically unknown. The man who declines to acknowledge God calls himself a materialist, or rationalist, and in these terms endeavors to shield himself from being called an atheist. But the man who wears the badge of a believer in God often comes very far short of realizing God. He says God is a proper conception. He is more than thinkable, but he is not real. It is with such that we would like to think for a few minutes, because the words of the text are a statement of historical facts—Moses saw God.

Religion nowadays is realistic, or it is nothing. The difficulty with most is that God being spirit, he cannot be made as real as if he were material. We would note that the thought that God is spirit does not preclude his being made manifest in physical form if he chooses, something which he has chosen to do in the past, although we cannot believe that in the text such physical manifestation was in mind. Not only has God been realized in the past, but he is being realized by vast multitudes today, and only because of this is the sinful world borne with a little longer. This manifestation, however, is spiritual.

What is it to realize anything? The dictionary says: "To perceive as a reality; to apprehend the meaning, reality, or real nature of, feel or appreciate fully and vividly; and think of as real." Can God be thus realized? This depends upon whether the spiritual is as real as the material. The great pragmatists, many of the leading statesmen, and men called to the highest offices in the land, are in the lead of the contention that faith in a spiritual God, a full realization of God, is absolutely essential to the greatest accomplishments.

How prove reality in spirit? Just as we prove the reality of electricity, and the agency that enables men to send messages across the wide sea without visible or tangible connections. There is a realization of the fact of the subtle thing, whatever it may be. Why not apply the same principle to God? Man should realize a spiritual God because he is himself spiritual, this term not being used here in the strict evangelical sense. Moses realized God—he saw him. If a man sees a thing it is to him real, and while that is not absolutely so, it is generally accepted as true, that God in his word uses sight to illustrate the truth that is here presented.

If we accept the proposition that Moses in some sense saw God, how much is that fact worth? Was Moses a visionary, a mere enthusiast or sentimentalist? Was that the conception of Angelo, as he carved him in marble? Was that the conception that lawmakers in all times have had of him as the greatest law-giver of history? Was that the conception that those who have studied him as a constructive statesman, making provision for private and public life, pure sanitation, and the most practical education? Was the writer of the text carried away by sentiment and habitually given to exaggeration, or was he considered a great thinker, a man of religious and spiritual wisdom, and with an intellect to which reference is made by the enemies of Christianity as the greatest of the Christian era? With these two great men presenting this truth, should it not be accepted? So many men and women testify to the fact that they have realized God, that if there was any possibility of showing these that they were mistaken the wall would be that of the lower world. Oliver Cromwell, Gustavus Adolphus, Chinese Gordon, and others in the clash of battle have clearly recognized God.

Man says, "I would like to realize God. I would like to practice his presence, if I knew how." We must first accept that the testimony of the spiritual sense in man is just as reliable as that of the physical. As God has recognized that man must have something objective before him, he has given his own son to become the historical manifestation of himself, what a leading minister in Chicago a few days ago called the Christmas manifestation. Study God in the face of Jesus Christ, and he becomes real, and then the spirit of man yearns to have communion with him.

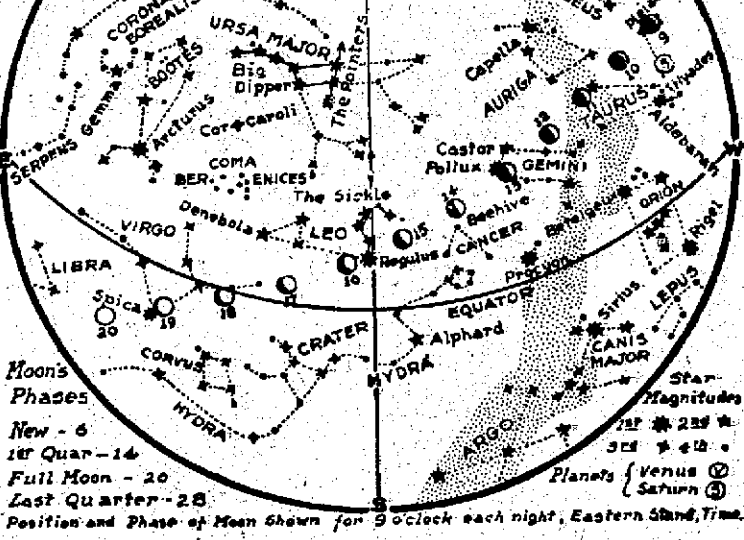

If a man realizes God, what results? Of the many results we may suggest that he loses fear, in which there is torment. This explains the joyful singing of hymns as the martyrs went to the stake. Man gets power. Did not God use Dwight L. Moody, a man fully surrendered to him, to revolutionize Christendom in an important sense? Man as he realizes God rises in all those qualities that God gave him in his creation, both intellectual and moral.

In the Old Way.

The world isn't growing much wiser. Men continue to climb fences and drag the gun after them.

APRIL SKY MAP

9 o'clock
Apr. 7
8 o'clock
Apr. 22

There are months in which the evening skies afford a finer spectacle than in April. Especially is the central field barren of brightness. Except in Leo, with its striking figure of the Sickle, there is but one conspicuous star in all the regions south of the Big Dipper. That is the second magnitude star in Hydra, on which the ancient Arab astronomers bestowed the name of Alphard, "the solitary one."

Alphard twinkles sluggishly with a dull redness that makes its name seem all the more appropriate. Approaching the horizon, however, one finds no lack of objects of interest and beauty. The most brilliant of the winter constellations are still visible in the west and in the east the stars that will shine in the summer skies are beginning to put in an appearance. Chief of these is Vega, a veritable "diamond in the sky," most beautiful of all the stars of the north.

Vega rises in the northeast nearly at the hour when Rigel, the star that most closely resembles it in color and magnitude, is setting a little to the south of the west point. Both are bluish white, and both are capable of great prismatic display near the horizon. Rigel is less impressive, because it suffers by comparison with its matchless neighbors Sirius, the Dog Star, whereas Vega is without a peer in its quarter of the heavens. Differs in Color From its Chief Rivals.

Two other stars in the northern hemisphere, Arcturus and Capella, are nearly or quite its rivals in magnitude, but differs strikingly in color, both from Vega and from each other. The light of Vega, as has been said, is strongly tinged with blue. Arcturus is distinctly an orange hue. Capella has a creamy radiance, much like sunlight in its quality. These color differences are emphasized, when the stars are viewed through an opera glass.

Stars vary so considerably in color that it is surprising to find how many persons have never noticed these differences. Such a one will find it interesting to view the principal stars now above the horizon, preferably with a glass. He will find Sirius of a bluish white, but only when the air is perfectly still. At other times it washes with all the colors of the rainbow. Betelgeuse, in Orion, is of a dull reddish hue. The observer who probably concludes that Rigel has less of the bluish tinge than Vega, Regulus and Denebola, in Leo, are clear white. So is Spica, in Virgo. Procyon is white with a slight canary tinge. Aldebaran in Taurus, is of a pale rose hue. The North Star is white with maybe the slightest suspicion of yellow.

Effects of Atmosphere and Elevation.

Much depends upon the condition of the atmosphere. A bit of milkiness in the sky will obliterate many differences. Near the horizon, where their rays must pierce the aerial strata obliquely, white stars appear yellowish and yellow turns to orange, while all the brighter stars emit prismatic flashes.

Most of the stars appear white, and even in the so-called colored stars white predominates. It is only a tinge of the modifying color that is perceived.

Differences in star color are attributed partially to differences in chemical composition, but chiefly to differences in temperature. And as all stars, like our sun, are cooling off, color indicates the age, or rather the stage of evolution, which each star has reached. A white-hot star like Regulus or Sirius, is a youthful sun. Those of the Capella type have reached our own sun's stage of maturity, and it is probable that their planetary systems are in the condition most favorable to the development and sustenance of life. The red stars are in various stages of old age, and are nearing the condition of "dead suns," hundreds of millions of which, there is reason to believe are moving in invisible paths through the milky way.

Vega, Once Our Pole Star, Will Be Again.

Vega possesses a practical interest for the human race because it was at one time our Pole Star and will be again. The precession of the equinoxes will bring it into the proximity of the celestial pole 12,000 years from now and every 25,000 years thereafter. At these times, Polaris, the present North Star, will be about as far from the true celestial pole as Vega is now. Vega is an immense sun, 100 times as brilliant as our own and 10,000,000 times as far away. The course of the solar system through space is carrying us nearly in the direction of Vega at the rate of eleven miles a second. If the "sun's way" is really a straight line, as is deemed most likely, the human race may see the time when its pole star will be by far the brightest star in the heavens, a veritable star of light in the sky.

All the naked eye planets except Saturn have moved off the field. Venus, however, is only a little below the horizon at the hour of the map and its position is indicated.

COPY OF PAUL BILL INTERESTS FARMERS

Measure Introduced by Assemblyman Paul of Milton Now Becomes Law —Is Safeguard to Growers.

Tobacco growers of Rock county will be interested in the exact reading of the Paul bill which is calculated to prevent the dealing in futures on the tobacco market.

Section 1. There is added to the statutes a new section to read: Section 1670m. Any person, firm or corporation, transacting business in this state that shall enter into any contract for the purchase of any crop that is not ready for immediate delivery shall in all cases weigh, or cause to be weighed, the crop so purchased, at or before the time such crop is delivered to the purchaser, or to a common carrier at the direction of the purchaser for shipment, and every such person, firm or corporation shall ultimately make payments in full for all of the crop so purchased according to the weight so ascertained and at the price or amount specified in the contract, without regard to the quality or condition of such crop or portions thereof at the time of delivery, unless any inferior quality or unsound condition of such crop shall be due to the negligence or willful act of the vendor, subsequent to such purchase, and in case any purchaser shall fail or refuse to comply with his contract as provided in this section, the vendor, in any action prosecuted by him to recover for any crop sold to such purchaser, shall recover as damages for such failure or refusal double the contract price of such crop at the weight thereof when ready for delivery and offered to or accepted by the purchaser.

Section 2. This act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and publication.

The Edgerton Tobacco Reporter in commenting on the same has the following to say:

While the new law is general in its provisions, the sole intent of the promoters is to put an end to the practice of field buying of tobacco by making the purchaser assume the risks that are generally borne by the seller. The question whether such a measure was a good law or not did not appear to appeal to our law makers so much as whether it would accomplish the purpose in preventing the dealing in futures, and we are confident it will do that. We do not believe many of the buyers of tobacco will care to enter into contracts for tobacco while it is standing in the field or curing in the shed and assume all the risks that might befall it before the time of delivery in the bundle. There are plenty of other risks to be taken after the tobacco is received and before it is ready for market to satisfy the most venturesome packers. The law may save the farmer a good deal of bother from importuning buyers while a crop is being harvested and cured, but the question he is most vitally interested in, will it tend to bring him any more money in the end? After the law is given a trial he will know more about it.

LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES

They Are Closely Observing Public Health Conditions.

An examining physician for one of the prominent Life Insurance Companies, in an interview on the subject, made the astonishing statement that the reason why so many applicants for insurance are rejected is because kidney trouble is so common to the American people, and the large majority of applicants do not even suspect that they have the disease.

He states that judging from his own experience and reports from druggists who are constantly in direct touch with the public, there is one preparation that has probably been more successful in relieving and curing these diseases than any remedy known. The mild and healing influence of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its remarkable record of cures.

We find that Swamp-Root is strictly an herbal compound and we would advise our readers who feel in need of such a remedy to give it a trial. It is on sale at all drug stores in bottles of two sizes—fifty-cents and one-dollar.

However, if you wish first to test its wonderful merits, send to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle, absolutely free. When writing be sure and mention the Janesville Daily Gazette.

Bells--Pimples--Abscesses

All Evidence of Impure Blood and a Run-Down Condition.

When the blood becomes thin, poor, devitalized nature cries out through such external and often painful evidence for help, and the safest, surest and most helpful remedy we know is Vinol.

This is because it is a combination of the two most world famed tonics—the medicinal curative elements of cod liver oil (without the oil) and tonic iron for the blood. Vinol strengthens the digestive organs, creates a hearty appetite, purifies and enriches the blood, creates strength.

Mary Lang of Altoona, Pa., says: "Ever since childhood, I have been delicate, and my blood poor, thin and devitalized. Nothing seemed to help me until I took Vinol and it has built me up and made me strong." "We say positively there is nothing like Vinol to purify and enrich the blood and build up weak, run-down people. If it should fall in your case we will return your money. Hints on Hair Health
If you use our treatment, we will either stop your hair from falling or pay for the treatment ourselves.
Dandruff is a contagious disease caused by a microbe, which if not removed causes baldness. This microbe often comes from a comb or brush belonging to someone else.
If you are troubled with dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair, or baldness, we believe that Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic will do more than anything else to remove the dandruff, destroy the germ, make the scalp healthy and stop falling hair, and if there is any life left in the roots, also promote growth of new hair.
We believe that probably 65 per cent of the cases of baldness could be overcome if people would only use Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic for a reasonable time as directed.
We don't want you to take our word for this. We want you to test the merits of Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic at our risk. If you use it and it does not give satisfaction, come back to us and tell us and we will immediately hand back to you the money you paid for it. You promise nothing, sign nothing and your mere word will be taken for it.
We are dependent upon your confidence and patronage, and we would not make these claims, or make this offer if we did not believe that Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic is the very best hair preparation you can use. Two sizes of bottles, 50c and $1.00.
You can buy Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic in this community only at our store.

WOMAN'S PAGE

The Evening Chit-Chat

BY RUTH CAMERON

THE GOLDEN KEY.

THE OLDER I grow, the more deeply I realize that no experience of life is without its value.

Even sickness and pain, needless mistakes and cruel disappointments, torturing anxiety and bitterest losses, leave us richer in some ways than they found us.

For every human experience through which we pass gives us thousands upon thousands of brothers and sisters of the soul.

The woman who loses a child, by that loss finds a million sisters in the other Rachels who are weeping for their children and will not be comforted.

Of course the realization of our new brotherhood does not come at once. When we are experiencing suffering of any kind most of us are passionate individualists who cannot think of any hurt but our own. It is only after the pain has passed, it is only when we have come to see our trouble in retrospect, instead of being engulfed by it, that we are able to realize that our experience has brought us closer to some of our fellow men.

Of course there are some people who do not realize this even then, but I hope they are very many. For I think they are the saddest failures in all the world. They prick their hearts on the thorns of life and will not pluck its roses. And the wisest and most blessed folks in all the world are those who can find in every experience a golden key to sympathy and understanding.

A young girl who undoubtedly belongs to this latter class was telling me the other day of the suffering she endured while waiting for a most important letter which was unaccountably tardy.

"Did you ever wait for a letter?" If you have you know that there are few more miserable experiences than the sickening suspense of such waiting. Well, has the proverb-maker said: "Hope deferred maketh the heart sick." I do not mean to be irrelevant, but it certainly seems as if he must have been waiting for a letter that did not come. It is like fighting ghosts. You are wild for action, but there is nothing that can be done and so you must only stand and wait. At first you look forward eagerly to the postman's visits, but by and by you almost dread them, because you fear the miserable disappointment that you will probably receive.

This is the crucible through which my friend passed. And this is what she said about it. "I wouldn't live through that week again for a thousand dollars, but I've learned one thing, and that is to sympathize with people who have anything like that to bear. Do you know, last summer I actually used to laugh at one of my girl friends when she was anxious because her fiancé did not write? It makes me shudder to think I could have been so cruel. I'll know better the rest of my life."

Thus out of the cruel crucible this girl brought with her a golden key. Have you done likewise?

Domestic Science DEPARTMENT

CONDUCTED BY Mrs. Alice Mitchell Kirk

Chocolate is a perfect food, as wholesome as it is delicious and a fine restorer of exhausted power, but its quality must be good and it must be carefully prepared.

It is good for mothers who are nursing their children or with those who undergo severe mental strains. It is soothing to the stomach and brain when taken in the form of drink the last thing before retiring. The cocoa bean when used as a drink, is much less exciting to the nervous system than tea or coffee and at the same time contains a much larger proportion of nutritive material—a cup of chocolate made with sugar and milk is itself a fair breakfast. Good and well made chocolate suits every stomach, which retains the slightest digestive power and no one has been so quick to recognize this as the army and navy. It is included in their rations.

I think I am safe in saying it is universally liked and, a kitchen is poor indeed which does not contain either cocoa or chocolate, or both, as there are so many ways they can be used in culinary preparations.

Chocolate or cocoa is not properly cooked by having boiling water poured over it. In order to bring out the full and fine flavor and to secure the most complete digestibility, the preparation, whatever it be, should be subjected to the boiling point for a few minutes at the very least and longer if possible over boiling water. In this all connoisseurs are agreed.

Hot Chocolate. Materials—Milk, three cups; water, one cup; chocolate, two and one-half ounces; sugar, four table-spoonfuls; marshmallows or whipped cream.

Directions—Put milk, water and chocolate into the double boiler. When scalding hot beat, for a minute or two with the egg beater. Add sugar and a pinch of salt. Remove from the double boiler and stand directly over the fire so it will boil well for a few minutes; then set back into the double boiler to cook longer or serve with a spoonful of whipped cream on top or put a marshmallow in each cup and pour over the hot chocolate.

Hot Chocolate Sauce. Materials—Chocolate, 1 ounce; butter, 1 tablespoonful; sugar, 1 cup; boiling water, 1 1/2 cups; vanilla, 1/2 teaspoonful.

Directions—Put the chocolate into the double boiler and melt; add the butter and stir until well blended; add the sugar and gradually the boiling water. Set over the flame a few minutes to actually boil, and then cool slightly before adding the vanilla. This sauce is fine for puddings, cream puffs, ice cream and sometimes chocolate nuts are added to it.

Chocolate Dessert. Materials—Butter, two table-spoonfuls; flour, two table-spoonfuls; boiling water, two table-spoonfuls; milk, three-fourths cup; sugar, one-third cup; eggs, three; vanilla, one half teaspoonful; chocolate, one and one-half squares.

Directions—Put the butter and flour into the saucepan and stir until well blended; pour over gradually the milk, stirring constantly and bring to the boiling point. Melt the chocolate, sugar and the boiling water together; add to the above mixture. Beat the yolks until thick and lemon colored and mix well in this. Remove and cool a little and add vanilla and the well-beaten whites which are folded in carefully. Turn into buttered baking dish and bake in a moderately hot oven for twenty-five minutes. Serve with whipped cream.

THE KITCHEN CABINET

BE NOBLE and the nobleness which lies in other men, sleeping but never dead. Will rise in majesty to meet their own. Then will thou see it gleam in many eyes.

Then will pure light around thy path be shed. And thou wilt never more be sad and lone. —Lowell.

SEASONABLE DISHES.

Use a few cold cooked vegetables for cutlets, such as turnip, peas and carrots, and a few beans. Make a white sauce, by adding three table-spoonfuls of flour to two of butter, add a pint of milk and cook until thick; then add the vegetables, season well and spread an inch thick on a plate to cool. When cold, form table-spoonfuls of the mixture into cutlets, dip in egg and crumbs and drop carefully into hot fat. Drain on paper and serve with a reheated meat gravy.

Carrots cut in shreds served (when tender, by boiling) with butter and lemon juice.

Dainty Croquettes.—Mix a cup of boiled calves' liver chopped with half a cup of finely minced bacon cooked brown, salt and pepper to taste. Form into balls the size of large marbles, dip in beaten egg, roll in crumbs and fry brown in smoking hot fat.

Pruce Pudding.—Place two layers of platted prunes, soaked for a few hours in cold water, in a greased baking dish, and pour over the following batter: Mix a cup of molasses, half a cup of butter, the grated rind of a lemon, half a cup of sour milk, into which stir one teaspoonful of soda, three cups of flour; mix to a smooth batter and bake until the batter is cooked through to the center.

Holland Sauce.—Mix half a pound of bologna sausage cut very thin, with a pint of cold boiled potatoes also sliced thin, one medium-sized onion shaved, six sardines freed from skin and bones, then cut in small pieces, two hard cooked eggs sliced. Pour over oil three parts, vinegar one part, a teaspoonful of horse radish and tomato catsup. Serve on lettuce.

Nellie Maxwell. Just the Thing. Husband—By love, I want something exciting to read, something really blood curdling.

Helpful Wife—Here is my dress-maker's bill, dearest!—Puck.

Prompt Agreement. Hub (after five minutes of it)—Oh, only a fool would argue with a woman.

Wife—Precisely.—Boston Evening Transcript.

Daily Thought. Keep your heart up and you'll do.—Robert Louis Stevenson.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

The Table

Cornmeal Pancakes. One cup meal half cup flour, pinch salt, three eggs beaten separately. Pour boiling water over meal, stir till thickens, then stir in milk, when cold put in yolks, then whites, lastly flour.

Needle Soup. Take about two pounds of beef or mutton, one small root of celery, one small root of leek, one small onion and carrot, one bay leaf, two cloves, half cup tomatoes, one box noodles or more.

Cheep Meat Dish. I had only a small piece of steak in the house, which would not reach for all, if fried, so I cooked soup from it, cut in a bunch of celery and used some boiled rice left over from the day before. When done I put rice in by spoonful. The meat I cut in fine pieces, cut up an onion, pepper and vinegar to taste, and this made a nice little dinner. Cheap, but good enough for all.

Salmon Cakes. One can salmon chopped fine, one cup milk, one egg pepper and salt to season, bread crumbs or cracker crumbs to thicken. From in flat balls and fry in butter.

Corn Sauce. One can tomato soup, thin with a little water, then cut into small pieces some olives, celery, pickles and a small onion and heat thoroughly. Is very nice for salmon croquettes, fish, hamburger steak or any kind of roast.

Banana Salad. A few fruits can be prepared with an oil dressing.

Bananas may be served as follows:

Remove skin from medium-sized bananas and cut fruit into dice, mix with French dressing. By removing a small section of the skin first the rest may be stripped off without breaking. The banana mixture may then be put back in the skins and served on crisp lettuce-leaves. Do not allow this salad to stand. Bananas are also delicious cut into dice and dressed with cream, sugar and lemon juice.

Things Worth Knowing. When embroidering scallops on ends of towels it is a good plan to baste the two ends of towel together. Then you can use embroidery hoops and the work will be easier.

Scallops on pillow cases can be worked easier if ends are basted together and then hoops may be used. If linen is marked with orange stains, cover the spots with cream of tartar moistened ever so little.

When crackers are stale and have become soft, put them in a pan; just dampen them a little with cold water and place them in the oven; they become like fresh and in fact, are better. Just leave in oven a few minutes.

Improvement for Collar. Stay—I have found that by crocheting the ring on each end of spiral collar stays, I not only have a good foundation to sew to the collar, but the padded ends also protect the neck.

HEART and HOME PROBLEMS

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am going to give a "hard-time" party. Can you give me any suggestions on how to decorate the room and table for this occasion?

THE OLD-FASHIONED GIRL. Festoons and banners of rags, old stockings and hats past their usefulness will be appropriate. If possible, take out your nice rug and put down old pieces of carpet. Use soap-boxes, etc., and broken old furniture. The table might be made of boards laid across saw-horses, and the dishes of broken china, tin, etc. You will be able to think up plenty of appropriate and funny things as you go along.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: We are two girl friends aged sixteen and fourteen years of age. (1) Will white shoes be worn next summer? (2) How can we get rid of freckles? (3) Does using the complexion to use talcum powder? (4) Are we too old to wear ribbons on our hair? (5) Are we too young to go with the boys with our parents' consent? (6) What is a good remedy for hard and brittle finger nails? (7) What is a nice and useful present for a bride?

WILD ROSE AND BLUE EYES. (1) Yes. (2) Take 6 grains salicylic acid and 4 oz. bayrum. Mix and apply night and morning with soft cloth. This will make the skin slightly rough, so use a little glycerine for it. (3) No. But be sure it is good talcum powder. (4) No. (5) As long as you are just friendly and not mushy, it is all right. (6) Vaseline. (7) Something for the table, sideboard or dresser, in silver, hand-painted china, glass or ivory.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a boy of eighteen and in love with a girl of fifteen. I think she cares more for me than she says. She is always glad to see me. I am always happy in her company and then she calls me "stupid" like in the country and am lonesome for the company of a good girl such as she is. I am a good boy and a member of the church and have nothing to do with other kids. RALPH.

My friends with this little girl, my boy, but get over the notion that you love her in any other way. She is not old enough to know anything about real love yet; neither are you. When you are both older—when she is eighteen and you are twenty-one, if you still feel that you love each other, get married.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I lost my mother two years ago and must give up the home. Will go out west to visit a sister, but intend to come back and keep house in a few rooms. What can I do with my furniture? Can it be stored and where? How about bedding? What would you advise me to do?

The furniture in a fireproof storage house, if you wish to keep all of it. You could sell some by advertising it in the newspapers or by selling it to second-hand furniture dealers, or you can have it auctioned off in the house.

I am sorry you must give up your home. Isn't there any way that you can keep it with roomers or boarders or getting somebody to share it with you?

"Tell Me the Secret"

"How do you make such delicate muffins? Mine are always so dry. And if I make the batter thin they fall. How do you do it?"

It is the baking powder. To make muffins, cakes and pastry rich and moist, yet light and feathery, a modern double acting baking powder must be used—one that will give off leavening gas in the oven as well as in the mixing bowl.

KG BAKING POWDER is really a blend of two baking powders, one of which starts to raise as soon as moisture is added. The other is inactive until heat is applied. This sustains the raise until your muffins, biscuits or cake is done.

K C Baking Powder costs less than the old fashioned quick acting kinds, yet you need use no more and it is superior to them in every way.

Try a can at our risk and be convinced.

Those born today will be generally fortunate and will attain wealth and position. They will have the power to control, but lest this descend to mere selfish tyranny, they should be taught to wait on themselves, and to regard the rights of others and never should their selfish whims be indulged.

And He Got the Pardon. The Judge: (to the accused)—The lady whom you kissed against her will is ready not to press for a conviction if you ask her pardon and express your regret. Accused: (to the pretty prosecutrix)—Yes, I humbly ask your pardon, but as a truthful man I cannot honestly express my regret.

Notoriety. The steer that gets crosswise in the loading chute may attract the most attention, but it doesn't make any better beef than the rest of the herd.—Maryville Tribune.

The Gold Dust Twins' Philosophy

WE were amused to hear the praise a grocer paid to Gold Dust Twins. Of all the many cleaning "stunts," he picked the Gold Dust Twins at once. "I find," he chuckled, "that they do the work of many more than TWO."

At House-Cleaning Time

"My customers are mostly wives, who have to bargain all their lives; each penny of the household fund is counted, and the wasteful shunned. For instance, take the cleaning game: Not all the cleansers work the same. Some seem to merely rub for naught, and some give out, no sooner bought.

"With Gold Dust, all my people state, the work of cleaning house goes great. It does so many clever tasks; it does, in fact, whatever asked. From kitchen, through and through, to hall, upstairs and down, the porch and all. Wherever dust and dirt collect, it has a marvelous effect.

"A 'Home, Sweet Home' is one, I say, wherein the Gold Dust fellows play. Their work is fun to them. They start at dawn, with some magician's art and with the sinking of the sun the last mean job of work is done.

"Oh yes, I like to recommend, a product that will prove a friend. Each Gold Dust customer declares that glass and cutlery and stairs, and floors and dishes and the rest are cleaned by using it—the best. If dirt be numbered with your sins, my preaching is

by Barbara Boyd

Appreciating the Home-Maker

I WAS at dinner last night at the Broadbents', said the clubwoman. "And I was quite interested in a little drama enacted there, which to me, had in it some elements of tragedy. Fortunately, I do not think the principal performers were aware of the situation. They were conscious, two of them at least, of certain little surface pricks. But I do not think they realized the deep, underlying cause. I am wondering if it would be for the best or not, for them to discover the cause."

"It might precipitate the tragedy," said her friend. "It might," replied the clubwoman, "and then again, it might be the very thing to prevent the tragedy. After all, the outcome of such things depends upon character."

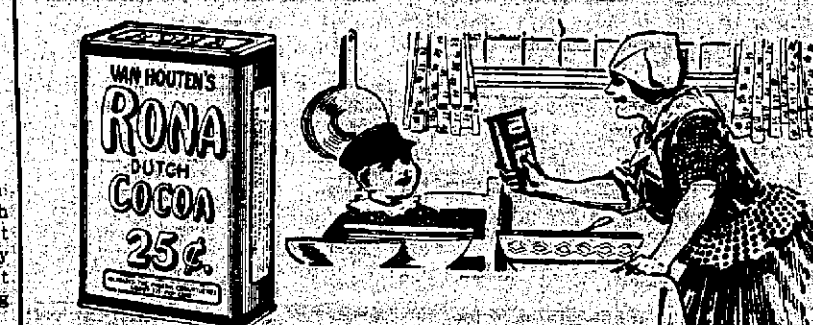

"Tell me the situation," said the friend. "They had a guest to dinner, a rather noted musician. Mr. Broadbent's musical to some extent, you know. And so he and the guest were in rapport. She played and sang, and they talked operas and compositions and composers and all that sort of stuff, to the exclusion of almost everything else. Now, Mrs. Broadbent is not in the least interested in music. I don't believe she knows a sharp from a flat, or that there are such things as major and minor scales. But she is a superb housekeeper. The dinner last night was perfection. The house is always spotless. But Mr. Broadbent seemed oblivious to all these things, last night at least. He accepted them as a matter of course, just as he does the air he breathes. In fact, he was quite irritated over one or two little things that happened. He seemed to think music was the only thing to be considered, and a musician as worthy of all the honor to be handed around. Now I think what his wife does is just as worthy of being honored as what this musician does. And I would like to know what his life would be like, if Mrs. Broadbent didn't make the perfect home for him she does. What she does means just as much to his life, if not more, than what a musician would do. Yet all his interest and appreciation seemed to go out to the musician, and very little was given to his matter-of-fact wife."

"That's the way it is in life, though," said her friend. "We do not appreciate the commonplace. It may be our most valuable treasure. But because it is an every-day affair, we do not rate it at its true value."

"Sometimes, I think some sort of tragedy would be a good thing to wake him up to an appreciation of his real blessings."

"Yes, if the awakening did not come too late," replied the friend.

Barbara Boyd.

Van Houten's RONA DUTCH COCOA

You housewives— you who delight in preparing dainty dishes for your table—you who like to make chocolate cakes, puddings, sauces and fudges—do you know that real Dutch Cocoa actually is better for cooking purposes than chocolate—that it has a richer, finer flavor? It has—and it's much easier to use.

VAN HOUTEN'S RONA DUTCH COCOA

You can make chocolate icing in an instant with Rona. No grating—it's ready. You'll like the rich, Dutch chocolate flavor. Rona Cocoa is made in Holland and yet it costs only half as much as domestic Cocoa because it goes twice as far. Ask your grocer today. Two sizes 1 lb. and 25c.

Try it on this recipe: ICINGS—Three table-spoonfuls Rona Cocoa dissolved in sufficient boiling water to make thick paste; add cream or butter; beat in egg. Fecton's: an equal right color and consistency are obtained.
